EXAMINING TRIAL

Will Breckenridge Given Hearing Before Judge Rice.

Monday afternoon the examining trial of Will Breckenridge, the negro who shot and killed Adrial Jones, at the colored commencement at Lewisburg Friday night, was held in the Police Court room, Judge Rice presiding.

The following witnesses were heard:

Charles Coryell, James Griffith, Bob Griffith, Richard Robinson, Henry Foster, Will Sanders, Clarence Thomas, Jim Henry Tibbs, Lona Ferguson, Will Hall, Bud Cheeks and Russell Turner.

The court room was crowded and had to be cleared several times. In the jostling a large pane of glass was broken in the door to the Mayor's office.

The testimony was of such contradictory nature that it resembled a contest to determine how many stories could be told of one happening. Through all the conflicting evidence there seemed little doubt that the dead man was robbed after the shooting and as he was the winner in the traps gains would seem to bear out this evidence.

Breckenridge was held to the grand jury on a $300 bond.

MAYSVILLE MAN RECOGNIZED.

This month's Masonic Home Journal has a fine cut of Mr. S. P. Browning of this city. Mr. Browning is a large factor in Masonic circles and is recognized as such. At the present he is Grand Standard Bearer of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, Knights Templar. The honors bestowed upon Mr. Browning are in recognition of his sterling worth.

Monday was County Court day and several large trades were made. The streets were crowded and the city had a very busy appearance.

Col. C. L. Roseham is quite ill from ptomaine poisoning. He is reported better this morning.

FOR SALE!

Desiring to leave Maysville, will offer for sale one of the most desirable business properties in the city, situated corner Third and Limestone streets, fronting sixty feet on Third street and running back fifty-three feet on Limestone street. Dwelling house of six rooms and bath, with yard and all conveniences, known as the White Block. Also, two dwelling houses on Sutton street between Second and Third. Frame house of 8 rooms fronting 18 ft. on Sutton street and running back ninety-six feet, with prospects of doubling in value when Mason county builds its new Court House, as the lot adjoining has already been purchased for that purpose, and would give this ninety-six foot frontage on Court House Square. Brick house of twelve rooms and two halls adjoining this property and fronting on Sutton street thirty feet and running back same depth as the other property, has gas and toilet, pays 10 per cent on the amount asked for them.

"SOIL MANAGEMENT"

Prof. George Roberts Speaks At Court House.

On Monday afternoon Prof. George Roberts, of the State Experimental Station at Lexington, delivered a very interesting, as well as instructive discourse on "Soil Management," at the court house, which was fairly well attended.

Prof. Roberts pointed out, as a result of experiments conducted at the station, the most practical methods of soil management, with a view to rehabilitating worn out soil without interrupting production, and maintaining the highest possible farming efficiency.

At the conclusion of his lecture, Prof. Roberts announced that the Agricultural Department would establish experimental stations in the various counties only upon the application of the counties, and conditioned upon the Department being given a warranty deed to the land turned over to it for experimental purposes; the Department agreeing that, should it ever abandon the land or cease using it for the purposes for which it was given, it should revert to the county. He explained that the Department was not, at any of the stations, attempting to operate a model farm, but was determining the most efficient soil management from a practical farming point of view.

The lecture was not so well attended as it should have been, and it is to be hoped that those interested in farm conditions will take more interest in this great problem of soil management, the solution of which means so much to the whole state.

NICE BUSINESS.

The business of the E. L. Manchester Produce Company has averaged over $1,000 a day for the last month. This is the best month's business in the history of this firm, which conducts one of Maysville's biggest businesses, and is recognized all over the country as an authority on produce conditions.

Last year this firm handled as many eggs as there are voters in the United States, and one hen had the job of laying these eggs, it would take her 12,500 years to accomplish the job.

Mrs. Ernie Ort on Monday afternoon entertained the King's Daughters of the Episcopal church with a luncheon. There were quite a number present.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE

At Maysville Cotton Mills Consumed Warehouse and Binding Room Entailing Loss of About $25,000

Low Water Pressure and High Winds Handicap Firemen in Their Work—Adjoining Property on Short Street Threatened

This morning about 6:15 o'clock fire was discovered in the warehouse of the Maysville Cotton Mills, in the West End, in the rear of the factory, and in a short time the warehouse and binding room were burning quite briskly.

The fire department was on the scene within a few minutes after the first alarm was sounded and lost no time in laying six lines of hose into the burning building, the southwest end of which was already a seething furnace.

The fire was discovered by William Tolle, who with George and Elsie Hines looking on, was oiling the engines and preparing the day's run at the big mills. Almost without warning flames burst through the door to the warehouse and although these three faithful employees exerted every effort it was soon seen that the damns were beyond their control. Mr. Roderick Denton sent in the alarm, and as stated, the department was on the scene in a few moments.

LOW WATER PRESSURE.

Fire Chief Newell and his men were severely handicapped by low water pressure, and there was a stiff breeze blowing at the time, which fanned the flames to added fury and it looked for a time if adjoining buildings must go, but the persistent efforts of the department prevailed and the fire was brought to control without doing damage except to the cotton mill, the south end of which was completely gutted.

There were over 1,000 bales of cotton stored in the warehouse, which with the improved machinery lately installed is practically a total loss.

HEAVY LOSS.

The loss is estimated at about $25,000, and is reported to be fully covered by insurance. The big mills employed about 100 people, who will keenly feel the forced idleness, which however, will be only temporary, as there is little doubt that the mill will be replaced without delay.

The Kinney Mill was being repaired and Uncle Bob took its place on the run. Both machines worked badly in the first big fire we have had since their installation.

This concern does annually more than $300,000 worth of business, and is headed by Hon. A. M. J. Cochran, our president, and Mr. R. A. Cochran, secretary.

MRS. BERTHA OSBORNE DIES AT EASTERN KENTUCKY HOSPITAL.

PITAL.

Mrs. Bertha Osborne, of near Dover, was on Monday removed to the Eastern Kentucky Hospital at Lexington, where she died within a few minutes after arriving.

Mrs. Osborne had been ill health for some time, having been treated upon two previous occasions at the Eastern Kentucky Hospital, and seemed somewhat improved, but several days ago her condition changed for the worse and it was determined to again take her to the hospital to regain her lost health, with the sad result as stated. While Mrs. Osborne did not have any close relatives, she had many friends who will mourn her untimely death.

MR. BERT ENNIS CRITICALLY ILL.

The many friends of Mr. Bert Ennis, of East Second street, will regret to know that he is critically ill at his home, and hopes of his recovery have been despaired of and his death is expected hourly.

Master James Ross, the popular young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ross, of East Third street, who was recently operated upon for appendicitis, is improving rapidly and on Monday took an outing on a street car for the first time since the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Parsons, of Neptune, are rejoicing over the birth of a nine-pound daughter. Little Miss Marie Scott arrived on last Thursday and both mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Mr. Samuel N. True, of Dover, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Clerk, is in the city today in the interest of his candidacy.

Mrs. James W. Fitzgerald continues to improve, and will soon be completely recovered from her recent operation for appendicitis.

Mr. D. F. Bond, of Flora, was in this city yesterday.

J. W. NEWMAN

Commissioner of Agriculture, Speaks At Court House.

State Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman spoke at the court house Monday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy for gubernatorial honors.

Mr. Newman called upon his backers to release Kentucky from lawyer rule, and said that since the population, according to the last census, is over 75 per cent rural, a rural or county man should be elected, who would understand the real problems of the state, and be better fitted to urge the legislation necessary to the great farming interests.

Mr. Newman touched on the question of state wide prohibition and announced himself in favor of a submission of the question to the people. He pointed out his past record of ten years' service to the people, in various capacities, and submitted his candidacy on his record.

PAST GRAND CHANCELLOR DEAD.

On Monday night Grand Chancellor Sherman Arn received word that Hon. Marion B. Hunt, Past Grand Chancellor of Indiana, and president Board of Control, Knights of Pythias Insurance Department, had died at his home in Indianapolis. He will be buried in Winchester, Ind., on Thursday, with full K. of P. honors, the Supreme Chancellor and other Knights of Pythias dignitaries attending.

TAKE STOCK OF YOURSELF.

As you prepare to retire this evening, take stock of yourself; begin at the very beginning of the day. Did you awake as bright and cheerful as the sun had dispelled the chilly darkness and was causing every living thing to be brighter and more cheerful because of its coming, you would carry cheerfulness wherever you went!

Did you appreciate the loving care of that one who was up long before you were to look after your every little want before you entered upon the day's labor? And did you express that appreciation? Did you greet your friends with a pleasant "good morning," and enter upon your duties cheerfully? Did you forebear when the operator was a few seconds slow in answering your phone?

? Did you treat kindly with the angry customer who railed at some imaginary grievance? You, during all of the day, do those hundred little things that make others glad they have contact with you?

You carry out your determination of the morning, or did you see everything upside-down because you were up-side-down when you... Never mind the answer. We know you carried out your determination, for we met you today and are glad that you have acquired the habit of cheerfulness. Isn't it an easy habit, and doesn't it grow on you? It will likewise grow on your associates, and you will find it to be one of the most self-serving of all habits.

BUY AT HOME

In looking through the book issued by some foreign publisher, I find, in view to making it a personal possession, that the word has been carefully written which are used which will bear most deeply upon the mind and judgment of a prospective purchaser; and great care has been exercised to make the illustrations more attractive than real.

The article you desire is selected from one of these wonder books, and you mail your order, perhaps with money order inclosed, for it is often the case that, after a glowing description of the article, you are advised in small type that it will be shipped upon receipt of price with order. In due course, the real article arrives, not exactly as described in the wonder book, but enough like it so that there is nothing for you to do but swallow your indignation and keep quiet about your short-sightedness.

You do not get the article you want, you do not save anything; for while the price quoted by the wonder book is less than your own merchant quoted you, so is the article you received less than the article he offered you; in many cases you do not even get what you pay for, and your money has been sent away from your own town where it can never do you, nor your real friends, any good.

The Washington Post should break itself of the habit of making stinging remarks. For instance, it says that an appropriate title for Jeremiah Beveridge's lecture on what he saw abroad would be, "Some Modern Ruins by One of Them."

Old Huerta certainly has nerve, after insulting the Stars and Stripes in Mexico, to come to the United States. However, Uncle Sam always was a mighty nice old man.

News Item.—An English steamer reaches Liverpool under the British flag.

A Helpful Suggestion.

The costumer came forward to attend to the nervous old man who was mopping his bald and shining poll with a big silk handkerchief.

"And what can I do for you?" he asked.

"I want a little help in the way of a suggestion," said the old fellow. "I intend going to the French students' masquerade ball tonight, and I want a distinctly original costume—something I may be sure no one else will wear. What would you suggest?"

The costumer looked him over attentively, bestowing special notice on the gleaming nob.

"Well, I'll tell you," he said then, thoughtfully, "why don't you sugar your head and go as a pig?"—Tid-Bits.

EUROPEAN WAR

Berajevo, the Scene of the Assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

Washington, May 3.—Berajevo, always one of the most fruitful breeding places in Europe of conspiracies and revolts, first against the Turks and then against the Austrians, and which, as the tiny, unknown Bosnian town where the spark ignited that flamed forth into the greatest war of the ages, will henceforth be known to every school child of every land. Berajevo, the scene of the assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir-apparent to the thrones of Austria and Hungary, and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, which event provided the occasion for the division of all the nations of Europe against one another, is described as follows:

"One of the beauty spots of the Balkans is that occupied by the Bosnian capital, Berajevo. It is built upon the River Miljacka, a small tributary of the Bosna, and spreads over both slopes of the narrow valley to the rugged hills. Partly oriental, and wholly set in the green and emerald of its gardens and neighboring well-wooded hills, Berajevo is frequently called, 'the Damascus of the north.' The city lies in the southeastern corner of Bosnia, 122 miles southwest of Belgrade. With a growing population of 50,000 and a thriving commerce and industry, Berajevo has been fast losing its eastern character, reconstructing the old Turkish city to conform to the purposes of westward progress.

"Berajevo is an important commercial entrepot, a distributing center for Bosnia, Herzegovina, Dalmatia and Montenegro. Its large bazaar is a favorite market place for the peasants of the whole province, while its commission houses conduct the exchange of Bosnian agricultural and mineral products with the manufacturers of other parts of the empire. It has potteries, silk mills, a tobacco factory, and a large individual, or house, industry, which produces fine embroideries, rugs, embossed and filigree-work.

"Sarajevo was founded in 1262 by the Hungarian General Kotromanić, and was enlarged by the Turks and selected for their administrative Bosnian headquarters. Following the Austrian occupation of 1878, it was largely rebuilt and has been steadily increasing in prosperity. Its inhabitants are mostly Serbo-Croats, who hate the Austrians yet many of whom declare that their new-found prosperity is entirely owing to the new regime. Sarajevo has been a continual seat of anti-Austrian agitation and propaganda for generations, which culminated in the assassination of last summer."

INDIAN LANDS OPEN FOR ENTRY.

Bismarck, N. D., May 3.—The government land in the Standing Rock Indian reservation was opened to inspection today, preliminary to being thrown open for homestead entry two weeks hence. This is probably the last big opening of public lands that will ever take place in this part of the country. There are approximately 1,000,000 acres in the reservation, but the share reserved for the state and the allotments to the Indians have reduced the unclaimed territory to about 80,000 acres. Thirty-nine thousand acres are located in North Dakota, and 47,000 acres in South Dakota. In South Dakota the filings are to be made at Timberlake, and in North Dakota in this city.

RAILROAD URGES BETTER LIVE STOCK.

St. Paul, Minn., May 3.—The Northern Pacific railway today inaugurated a three months' campaign among the farmers of the northwest for better live stock on the farm. Special cars carrying agricultural lecturers and exhibits are to be attached to many of the company's trains. These cars will be sidetracked at farming centers on the different lines for one day and lectures will be given on the subject of live stock raising. Special attention will be paid throughout the campaign to the subject of dairying.

HOW MANY MILES OF ROADS HAVE WE?

Washington, May 3.—The United States Department of Agriculture is now gathering information which, when complete, should not only give the total mileage of public roads in the United States and their cost, but should serve as a basis for estimating the relative value of the different kinds of highways. Some 15,000 sets of inquiry blanks have already been distributed through the State Highway Commissions, and some of these are now beginning to come back to the department. Each set consists of four cards.

Of these the first asks for information on the mileage of different classes of roads in the county to which it is sent. The mileage does not include, of course, streets in cities and towns. The roads are divided into ten classes, as follows: brick paved, concrete, macadam with the addition of some substance such as asphalt, oil, or tar, plain macadam, gravel, shell, other hard surfaced roads, sand and clay mixture properly graded and drained, ordinary earth roads properly constructed, and, finally, unimproved roads.

The second card asks for information in regard to the tax rate for the roads and the amount of work and money expended on them.

The third blank is concerned with the names of local road officials, and the fourth with facts in regard to the bond issues and the indebtedness of the counties for their road systems.

As there are approximately 3,000 counties in the United States, in many of which the mileage has never been estimated, it is hardly probable that this preliminary survey will be exact. The Department, however, will be able to detect any excessively inaccurate reports for the road mileage per square mile of territory does not vary exceedingly. Except in desert or undeveloped country less than half a mile of public road to every square mile of territory is rare, while in the most thickly populated rural sections the maximum is no more than  $\frac{1}{2}$  or 3 miles. Thus, in France, there is an average for the entire country of 1.76 to square mile. In Italy, however, this has fallen to .56, possibly on account of the mountainous character of much of the peninsula of Sicily and Sardinia.

In America the average is approximately .80 miles, which, in view of the fact that much of the country is sparsely settled, seems unduly high. An explanation, however, is to be found in the fact that in many states the law provides that each section line shall be a public road. Thus, for example, there are in the state of Iowa alone more than 104,000 miles of legal highways, manifestly a much larger mileage than is required by traffic.

When the information in regard to the existing roads which the Department is now seeking is complete, it is the intention to continue the inquiry year after year in order to ascertain the durability and economy of the various kinds of highways. The data thus collected should be useful to road engineers all over the country and it is hoped that county agents and others interested in improvement of agriculture will do their best to facilitate the collection of the desired information.

RAILROAD SHOPS REOPENED.

Pine Bluff, Ark., May 3.—After a long period of comparative idleness, the shops of the St. Louis Southwestern rail road in this city and at Tyler, Texas, resumed operations on full time today. These are the largest shops on the system and during the summer several hundred men will be kept busy putting engines and cars in good condition to handle the big freight traffic that is expected before next fall.

KANSAS SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Topeka, Kas., May 4—Delegates from every section of the state poured into Topeka today for the golden jubilee, or fiftieth annual convention, of the Kansas Sunday School association. The convention will continue several days and will have as speakers Governor Capper, former Governor Iloch, Miss Brookway, of Philadelphia; Marion Lawrence, general secretary of the International Association, and other men and women of prominence.

PRICE OF ITALY'S NEUTRALITY.

Washington, May 3.—W. J. Gooch, of Franklin, who was Prof. J. H. Cherry's campaign manager, was at Frankfort Saturday to hear A. O. Stanley's opening speech. He will support Stanley for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

"I probably have made closer inquiry during the last three weeks concerning this race than any other man in the state, because it was up to me to ascertain the true situation and advise Dr. Cherry, and I find that Stanley is the strongest man of the five now running," Gooch said. "I have no doubt about his winning the nomination if he is able to retain his present strength and I believe he will retain it. I find that the people as a whole irrespective of party affiliations, are resenting the injection of state wide prohibition as an issue in the campaign."

OPEN SCHOOL FOR ANARCHISTS.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 3.—Mild diesel fuel today added to its institutions of learning a school where the rising generation may be taught all the principles of anarchism, "anarchist pugnacious surroundings." Whether the scientific methods of bomb making and throwing are to be included in the curriculum is not stated in the prospectus. The school is to be conducted in connection with a co-operative farm colony of anarchists located several miles outside of New Brunswick. The Francisco Ferrer Association, with headquarters in New York, is the chief promoter of the project. Their method of education seeks to reconstruct society by creating, as they say, "free men and women" through a proper system of training in their childhood. The children, as a result, are to be taught along modern revolutionary lines, which the Ferrer followers consider thoroughly scientific. The promoters of the school and colony are not adverse to the idea of promoting social life as well, whenever they have selected this vicinity for their colony as being within easy access to New York City, a distance of about thirty miles by rail.

TO CELEBRATE WATERWAY COMPLETION.

Portland, Ore., May 3.—All of the states of the Pacific northwest are to join hands this week in a big celebration in honor of the completion of the Dalles-Celilo canal, which is regarded as the most important waterway project ever undertaken in this section of the country. The canal provides a continuous free waterway from the Pacific ocean inland a distance of 479 miles to Lewiston, Idaho, on the Snake river, and to Priest rapids, on the Columbia river, a distance of 450 miles. The completion of the waterway has been deemed of such great importance that a series of celebrations has been arranged by the citizens of the vast area affected. These celebrations are to continue through the entire week, and will include special programs at Lewiston, Portland, Walla Walla, The Dalles, Pendleton, Vancouver, Astoria and a number of other places.

BETTER BABIES.

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast, and taken firm hold of American mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.

TO FIX FLOUR STANDARDS.

Chicago, Ill., May 3.—With a view to arriving at definite conclusions in regard to standards for different kinds of flour, a public hearing was begun in this city today under the joint direction of the Department of Agriculture, the Association of American Dairy, Food and Drug Officials and the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists. Many prominent manufacturers of flour and meal were in attendance.

LOOKFORITHERE

Washington, May 4.—As the price of peace, Italy is reported to be expecting from Austria-Hungary the surrender of the Dual Monarchy's entire seacoast. These expectations are said to amount to demands as regarding Trent, Triest, Istria and Fiume. In connection with showing the two significance of such demands, how great is the payment demanded by Italy for her continued neutrality, the National Geographic Society, following its description of Triest, issued today a statement dealing with Fiume, the sole seaport of the kingdom of Hungary. The statement reads:

"Austria-Hungary carries on its business with the outside world through its great ports, Triest and Fiume. The future of its over-seas commerce is largely bound up with the development of these cities; for Triest and Fiume are the New York and Boston of Austria-Hungary, or, better, they are the dual monarchies' Hamburg and Bremen. Fiume is the only outlet of the Hungarian kingdom to free water, and the Hungarians have spent millions of dollars in their endeavor to make it a model port.

The great Austrian port had the Hungarian port are keen rivals, and, during the last few years, Fiume has grown somewhat at the east of its northern neighbor.

Owing to the deep interest which the Hungarians take in their coast city, the business of Fiume has grown rapidly.

There are several harbors; one for coasting vessels, one for timber, and a general harbor, begun in 1872, and capable of accommodating about 200 large vessels.

It is protected by a breakwater more than half a mile in length, and is flanked by a great, modern quay more than two miles long. The wharves and elevators are equipped in the most up-to-date fashion for the handling of a huge inflow and outflow of trade. The water-front, as the rest of the city, is lighted by electricity.

"In 1910, Fiume was entered by 17,880 vessels of 3,031,881 tons. In approximate figures, its business totals $55,000,000, divided into an export business of $35,000,000 and an import of $20,000,000. Its trade is thus about one-half that of the port of San Francisco. Its exports consist chiefly of the agricultural products of Hungary, grain, flour, sugar, timber, horses, and some manufactured wares. The principal imports are coal, wine, rice, various minerals, fruit, jute, chemicals, oils and tobacco. There are several industrial establishments in the city, among them Whitehead's torpedo factory, a large paper mill, a royal tobacco factory, flour mills, tanneries and rope factories. The fisheries of the city are important. Quarnero Gulf being filled with food fishes.

Fiume is picturesquely situated at the head of the Gulf of Quarnero, at the southern base of the Istrian triangle, forty miles southeast of Triest, or about seventy miles away by the railroad through the mountainous coastline. The city has more than 50,000 population. The Italians constitute the largest part of the populace, and, together with the Slavonians, comprise about ninety per cent. Geographically Fiume belongs to Croatia. In 1870, however, it finally became a part of the Hungarian kingdom. The Italians, who favor the Hungarians as opposed to the Slavonians, are practically in control of the city's administration.

Fiume occupies seven square miles of land carved out of Croatia. Around its water-front there is a narrow, level plain upon which the new town is built, with its convenient, modern ground-plan, fine business structures and generally substantial architecture. The old town climbs the hills back from the shore, struggling in a quaint disorder of irregular, narrow streets and hazardous houses. Views of the city and its surroundings from the deck of an approaching steamer are delightful, and there are a number of pleasant tours to be made in the neighborhood. Fiume has been Austrian since 1871."

NEW DEPARTURE BY CENSUS BUREAU.

Washington.—The Census Bureau has established a new precedent by enumerating, at local request and expense, the population of a city between census years. This was done last month at Tulsa, Okla., under authority of a Presidential order, and as a result the population of that city on April 15, 1915, was officially announced a few days ago as 28,240, exclusive of 1,085 persons living on "Indian lands" located within or adjacent to the city, but politically distinct from it. The increase between 1910 and 1915 was 55 per cent. The work was done by local enumerators under the supervision of Mr. Eugene P. Hartley, an official of the Census Bureau.

QUAKER QUIPS.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Many a man has built his success on the foundation of another man's failure.

The truth is elastic. Try to stretch it and it will sometimes fly back and sting you.

You never can tell. Even the ugly man may have a handsome face in the barber shop.

When a man asks for bread and you give him a stone, you shouldn't live in a glass house.

The man who has an ax to grind may feel that is better than turning the grindstone for someone else.

VIPERAGE PARADE

FORMER DOVER GIRL'S SUCCESS.

Friday night, just before "Kir-mels," a well known gentleman of this city, driving a F— car, came to a stop in West Second street. He stopped the engine and got out of the car.

No sooner had he alighted, however,

than he was made the object of protests by a number of people who had gathered to enjoy seeing the "actors" and "actresses" going to the stage door, the machine being so placed as to obstruct their view. He very courteously cranked the engine and backed up a few feet. Enter Chief Newell, who pointed out the extreme danger of his new position should "Uncle Bob"

be called to a fire, the machine being in the danger zone. Seeing the error of his ways, after having stopped the machine for the second time, Mr. F—

Owner cranked up again and went clear across the street and drew up directly in front of Thompson & Mc-Atee's new gasoline station. Again he was requested to remove the car, so it would not interfere with business.

Although we are not mind-builders, it is not difficult to imagine the spirit of a great peace that settled over his mind when he at last cast anchor in a place where he would not be molested after successively cranking, starting, stopping, getting out and leaving the machine for the fourth time.

One day last week a young Third street business man, who had his first lesson in running his auto truck in deliberately impressed upon his mind by the stubborn machine's queer capers several times, had managed to engineer it as far east as Commerce street. He was on "Dusty Boulevard," and was nearing Commerce street at pretty good pace, when the danged thing headed for the water trough. M. B.

M., in order to keep the machine from "cleaning up" the trough, made a quick whirl of the steering wheel, and then to his discomfiture the danged thing made a header for the barber shop on the northeast corner, and from the way it was going it was evident that a "cleaning up" was about to be made on that corner; but, of course, the unexpected happened and the machine went "dead" before it managed to hit the corner and kill itself. With its Irish wit ready, Martin Gulfoyle, who had taken refuge behind the large electric pole on the southeast corner of "Dusty Boulevard" and Commerce, howled out, after the machine was running off, "Why don't you get a rope and tie that danged thing, so the people won't have to be hanging telephone poles to keep from being skeered to a corpse?"

FREEZE GRAPE JUICE NOW.

The Department of Agriculture has found a way to concentrate grape juice and help the boom started by Secretary Bryan when he adopted that drink as his strongest beverage. Mr. Bryan is delighted.

"The more the better," he says.

The ordinance was adopted by the following vote: Yes—Arn, Everett, Hendrickson, Gantley, Greenlee, Keith; nays—Cullen, Crowell, Fleming, Hunsicker.

A petition of property owners on Forest avenue, between Commerce and Lexington streets, asking Council for a sewer on that thoroughfare, was read, and it was referred to the same committee the report of the Propositions and Grievances was referred to.

In view of the growing business of the interurban automobile service now coming into and going out of this city, a petition was presented to Council asking permission to erect a depot on Market street Esplanade on the south end, to be paid for by the business men of this city. There are now some fifteen or twenty of these new transportation cars entering this city daily, and it is thought a suitable place should be provided as a depot for the numerous passengers who come here to do their shopping and as it now is they have no definite place to go where they can wait for their respective autos. The matter was referred to the same committee that has the Board of Health-Propositions and Grievances Committee report.

The Board of Education asked the City Council to endorse its action in the purchase of the Dinger property.

Building permits were granted as follows:

Mrs. Lida Kilgore, small metal roof veranda on residence on West Second street, First Ward.

John W. Davidson, frame building for storage purposes, on lot on Bank street, Fourth Ward.

Mrs. Lida Kilgore, colonnade porch, West Second street, First Ward.

Verner Dryden, room on west side of house on Commerce street, Sixth Ward.

Joe Williams, two-story frame dwelling, store house, stable and other out-buildings, at corner Third and Wood streets, Sixth Ward.

The report of the Propositions and Grievances Committee and the Board of Health as to the matter of getting rid of the garbage, recommended that the refuse be taken to the city lot in the Fifth Ward, where an incinerator will be built, if it doesn't cost too much; but there was nothing said as to how the garbage was to be gotten to that place, and it is supposed that everybody will be compelled to carry it there.

It is recommended that numerous sewers be built throughout the city, and something to be taken in regards to the sewers emptying into the river above the water works pumping station. The report was referred to the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Laws and Ordinances Committee, Internal Improvement Committee and Propositions and Grievances Committee, to report at next regular meeting of Council.
